

IRON CHEF CHOCOLATE

*This was one of my all time favorite activities.
Everyone loves chocolate!*

Welcome:

Everyone loves to sign up for door prizes. For this activity, we gave out... (of course) chocolate. We had an "Early Bird Special" this month also. "Early Birds" are simple and inexpensive 30 minute craft projects. For this craft, we dipped plastic spoons in different kinds of chocolate to make the perfect stirring utensils for your hot chocolate. They were super cheap to make and everyone loved them.

Speaker: We had a short talk on all the different kinds of chocolate and what they can be used for.

Mini Classes: Instead of the normal mini class format, we showed chocolate tips throughout the night as everyone enjoyed the chocolate entries. Some of the tips included: Showing how to fill cupcakes with pudding, chocolate, etc. We demonstrated cooking "sugar-free" with chocolate and different ways to make homemade hot chocolate.

Activity: We asked everyone to bring their best chocolate desert. As the sisters arrived, we served a bite-sized piece in taster cups that you can purchase at any wholesale store. (Costco, Sam's, etc.) We had them pre-numbered for convenience in judging them later. We continued to serve them all during the first demonstration. For the rest of the activity, everyone sampled one of every desert and voted on their favorites. We also had a chocolate sculpture competition that everyone voted on.
